Cold and wet

Wednesday's forecast of "20% chance of showers" turned out to be way off the mark as softballers at WSG suffered persistent rain making conditions difficult and miserable. In the day's closest game, Mayhem got off to a good start against Greensox and were leading 12-7 after four innings, until the Sox managed five runs to tie it up. But the Mossley crew's defense held up with two shut outs, while their offence managed the one run needed for the win. The game between Camels and Meerkats was also close. In a low-scoring affair, the Camels were always right on the Meerkats' tails (Do meerkats have tails? Yes they do) but neither team could match the relative slugfest that saw the suricates score four in the bottom of the 2nd. While Meerkats alternated os and 2s, Camels consistently just got one per inning, and eventually lost

New Tuesday venue

After the Barlow Croft's three failures as a suitable post-match venue, as reported last week, we have now made arrangements for an alternative on Tuesday evenings, thanks to the efforts of Ian Caird and NJ Dyson, with the

There is ample parking, a nice outdoor beer garden if the weather is fine, and, as it is a Holts pub, the prices are

Birthdays

Week beginning May 15th

Monday Natasha Andy (Swingers)

Wednesday Jeffrey Fong (Mavericks II), Diane Martin Baez (Mavericks II), Brian Slusarek (Dodgers), Carla Zuill (Bats)

Thursday Tereza Kocińska (Tigers), Amy Somers (Thunder III)

Friday Sian McNeill (Speeders)

Saturday Luis Arrevelagas (Thunder)

On this day ...

This week Mavericks meet Camels, as they did on this date in 2011, Mavs winning 12-2. In the Speeders' game against the Clanger Camels on the same date, the newly installed fence on the "showpitch" at Parrswood was at last breached not once, not twice, but three times, twice by Speeder Grant Hodnett and once by Clanger Alex Shelton, with the league's first ever "over the fence" home runs. The following year the first fence-clearing homers of the season were hit on the same date in an exciting game between Thunder and Mavericks, with Pete Nightingale (2) and Luis Arrevelagas clearing the obstacle. Thunder edged the game 15-14 with three runs in the bottom of the 7th.

Thunder met Mavs again on the same date in 2016, with the Mavs winning convincingly, 20-4 in 4½ innings.

Finally, on this date just last year, Hackers met Bats as they do again this week. Just a year ago, Bats won 17-10. Hackers got their revenge in their second meeting, but Bats won on the final day of last season in the title-decider.

Alex Hall tournament sign-up reminder

The organizers of this year's Alex Hall tournament, which is taking place on June 3rd at Parrswood, are urging participants to sign up for the fun-filled fancy-dress/picnic/tournament sooner rather than later. As most readers will know, for this tournament players sign up as individuals and are allocated to teams which the organizers try to make as evenly balanced as possible. So obviously they need to know sooner rather than later how many players there are going to be, and therefore how many teams (with a knock-on effect of knowing how many pitches and umpires are needed, and so on).

So you are urged to contact Kate Shearer, Vicky Green or Gina Amos or just visit the Alex Hall Memorial Tournament Facebook group to let them know you are IN.

And if you are still waver- ing, what's the issue?

As everyone will tell you, this is a great opportunity, especially for players relatively new to the game, to get a chance to play alongside (and against) established players and learn a lot, while having a whole heap of fun.

Oh and if you can't play, you can still sign up to donate to the cause (all proceeds to Christie's cancer research) and/or get raffle tickets for one of the great prizes as advertised last week.

6-8. Travelling Dodgers got off to a cracking start against Mavericks, scoring five in the 1st inning. But after that the runs more or less dried up, and a Mavs bat-around seven runs in the 4th saw them home if not dry with a 16-7 victory. Congrats to Pete Nightingale (pictured), whose home run makes him the fourth batter to have hit a homer every year since records began (as reported last week). Meanwhile Sharks had it pretty much all their own way against the Speeders from start to premature finish, the game being called for bad light after five innings with the seadogs 12 ahead.

In Division 2, Camels II maintained their 1,000 record with a 19-12 defeat of the Hackers, who might have been described as resplendent in their new uniforms, had they not been mostly hidden beneath rainwear. The pair shared ten runs in the 1st inning, but then the bactrians edged ahead, a lead extended to ten runs with a bat-around 5th inning. Hats off to camel Conor Battersby for owning up to having been tagged on a crazy home run attempt where three runners came in an inch apart with Ian Mills able to tag two of them. Bats led Titans for four innings but let it all slip, conceding six and seven runs in the 5th and 6th innings, losing 20-14. The other two games were much less tight: Mavericks II scored steadily and defended stoutly to beat Thunder II 15-3, while Freeze continued to find Division 2 tough work, conceding 11 and then seven to Tigers on the way to a four-inning “mercy” loss.

Tuesday’s weather had been much more clement. In a spectacular comeback, Sluggababes and Barflies shared 57 runs in an amazing game where the flies took an early lead which the babes equalised in the 3rd. With the teams tied 12-12 after four, the sluggers did what it says on the can and more than doubled their tally with a 13-run onslaught. Barflies could only manage one run in response, and narrowly avoided the “slaughter” as the slugs scored two of the three needed in the top of the 6th. Cue the Barflies’ recovery as they scored 17 in a triple bat-around then shut out the babes to win 30-27. There was another thrilling climax in Division 3 as Bandidos came from behind to beat Thunder III 19-15. Having trailed from the 2nd inning onwards, the win was secured with two shut-outs and a five-run rally. In the other all-Div 3 encounter, Screwballs were 16-1 up before Stingers rallied somewhat, scoring six, but the cocktailers simply responded with more of the same, and in the bottom of the 6th scored the one run needed to complete a 25-10 RAR win. There was a “mercy” win too for Seagulls against the Swingers, who shared 47 runs, with the partiers even managing a bat-around seven-run 2nd inning. And Enforcers completed a run-ahead rule against Raiders with nine runs in the 1st and eight in the 4th. Thunder IV took a 13-9 lead over Tiggers after 3½ innings, but the bouncers tied it up by the bottom of the 5th, and a seven-run bat-around in the 6th was enough to give them a 20-15 win.

With the joy of victory – via a ‘mercy’ – on the near horizon, the Sluggababes slumped to the agony of defeat as they failed to score the last couple of runs required then could not stem a comeback from the Barflies. Of 57 runs scored just five came from homers. Defence was not a feature of this game, although there were a couple of exceptional plays – notably Joe Wright’s throw from deep centre left to beat a runner to home. And El Harris’s work in left field earned her a deserved MVP award. A charity vote produced the LBH award. Also Alex Wardle’s dinger merits mention (so he tells me).

Canny baserunning contributed to the gastro-pods’ 13-run 5th. But this was topped by the carousers’ 17-run 6th, with contributions throughout the team. If the toppers tighten their fielding they’ll be contenders for sure. Two-out Tim

Bandidos rescued the win after trailing for almost the entire game in this most exciting of encounters with their friendly rivals and former teammates Thunder III. After sharing six runs in the opening inning, some rusty infielding over the next two innings allowed Thunder to establish a six-run lead by the bottom of the 3rd. The spongy ground made fielding groundballs tricky while throws to 1st came straight out of the sun ... difficulties affecting both teams. Thunder’s near bat-around in the 3rd could have been particularly costly: the 11th batter stepped up with the bases loaded, but fortunately hit foul to strike out. Bandidos outscored their opponents over the next three innings, but only by one or two runs, reducing but not eliminating the deficit, and a shut-out in the 6th left it at 15-14 to the rumblers. Into the crucial final inning, with Bandidos needing one just to make Thunder bat again. Lead-off got on base but was out at 2nd on a fielder’s choice, with the same fate meeting batter #2. Up steps rookie Raechel Moss, blissfully unaware of the pressure she was under (two out and the tying run on 1st), to smoke it over short stop’s head for a two-baser. Nacho Sánchez then hit a triple to drive home the tying and go-ahead runs, Kate Davidson singled, scoring Sánchez, top of the order Adam Morrison got a walk, then Loz

Birch batted in two, bringing her RBI total to six to complete the scoring and give the Mexicans the lead for the first time in the game. Still there was some defending to do, but the final three Thunder batters were retired in order, the game-winning out a steeppling catch in left field for Ms Birch, not her first of the evening. After a shaky start, Bandidos had kept their heads in the game and in the end powered through in what skipper Adam described as possibly his most enjoyable softball game ever.

There were some Hacker highlights however: new shirts for a start which thankfully didn't run when wet, much like the players wearing them! A pair of homers from MVP Harry Bell and some sparkling catches in left field from MVP Grace Mills weren't enough to pull us through, though spirits were raised with some unusual running to 1st. Rachel Naylor made a stuttering, "should I stay or should I go?" run to 1st when the short-

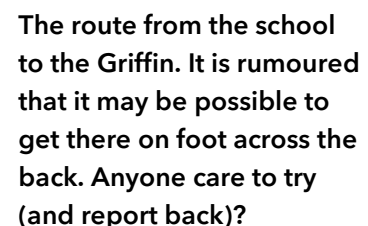

The other highlight was a first for the old bugger in the middle of the field in over 30 years of playing: a double tag on home. I'd love to know how often that has happened since records began, Sir Statto?

What's not to like? Hopefully we will see a good percentage of Tuesday teams meeting at the Griffin, promoting the post-game camaraderie that our league became noted for in years gone by. See you there!

Softball vocabulary

As found by Diana Maynard, first appeared in the Review 11.4, 17/18 May 2005. Slightly adapted.

One of the interesting things about the game of softball is the special things the participants say to each other. Here's a list of some of the more common sayings, and what they actually mean:

Good eye—One more than either you or the umpire have, otherwise they would have called a strike.

Wait for your pitch—Yes you eejit, that WAS a strike. Better hope they throw another one.

Now you've seen it—That was the one you should have hit.

Gotta be good now—If it doesn't bounce before it reaches you, you'd better swing.

Way to wait for your pitch—Well it's nice to see that this ump is a blind cretin.

Take the walk if it's going—Hope that the pitcher messes up, because you won't be getting on base any other way.

Good contact—You have managed the not inconsiderable achievement of hitting the ball into the 5% of the available space that has a fielder in it.

Good swing—The ball is the size of a grapefruit. How can you miss?

Let's turn two here—Why else did we let them get their runners on base?

The pressure's on the pitcher now—No reason why this run of good luck with the dodgy calls can't continue.

You're on top now—Reminder, we do NOT swing on a 3-0 pitch.

Nerves of steel—No we didn't think it was a ball either.

Slugging average: correction

In last week's report "Home run records" a reference was made to a slugging average of 16.000. In fact, four home runs in four at bats would give a slugging average of 4.000.

For those who are unaware of this statistic, it is calculated by dividing the total number of bases reached on each hit by the number of at bats: so 4.000 is the maximum possible value.

Next week's fixtures 23/24 May

Division 1

Greensox @ Mavericks (F, PFagan) Last meeting 13 July 2022, Mavericks won this 72nd edition of the most played MSL fixture 18-16 and lead 36-35 with one tie.

Sharks @ Camels (pitch E, umpire Wallace) Last meeting 10 August 2022, Sharks won 13-2, their second win in five meetings.

Speeders @ Traveling Dodgers (H, Creelman) Last official meeting 21 August 2019 (Division 2) when Speeders beat Tigers 23-11. Under their new name, the pair met unofficially in 2020, when TDs won 20-6 in the 5th-place final. Speeders lead 6-3 in official meetings.

Thunder @ Meerkats (G, Davies) Last meeting 18 August 2021, Thunder won 10-6 and have won all six of their meetings. Mayhem rest

Division 2

Tigers @ Thunder II (A, Strayer) Last meeting 15 June 2022, Tigers won 15-6 to complete the double in their first season in Division 2.

Mavericks II @ Hackers (B, Caird) Last meeting 11 August 2016 (Division 3), Mavs won 18-1 and have won all four meetings.

Freeze @ Titans (C, Somers) Last meeting 15 May 2018 (Division 4), Titans won 18-11 to take a 2-1 lead in official meetings. The pair met unofficially on 1 September 2020 when Titans won a close game 19-18.

Dodgers @ Camels II (D, Green) First ever meeting.

Bats rest

Division 3

Tiggers @ Stingers (7, Sharp) Only previous meeting 9 July 2019 (Division 4), Tiggers won 11-9.

Interdivisional

Thunder III @ Thunder IV (1, Hung) The IIIs won a Thunderby with the IVs on 29 June 2021, but Thunder IV inherited Colt 45s' history on merging, and they last met 13 July 2021 in Division 3, Thunder winning 28-15. Of eight meetings Hurricanes/TH3 have won seven.

Barflies @ Screwballs (2, Hugill) Last meeting 16 August 2022 (Division 4), Barflies won 17-16 to take a 2-1 lead in all meetings.
